

Funnel of Hope

REACHING THE UNREACHABLE

Each of us is called to be a funnel. Sadly, many of us are buckets.

A bucket holds substances. It contains and retains. A funnel channels fine substances to where they are meant to be. It directs to hard to reach places. Only a funnel can, therefore, reach the unreachable.

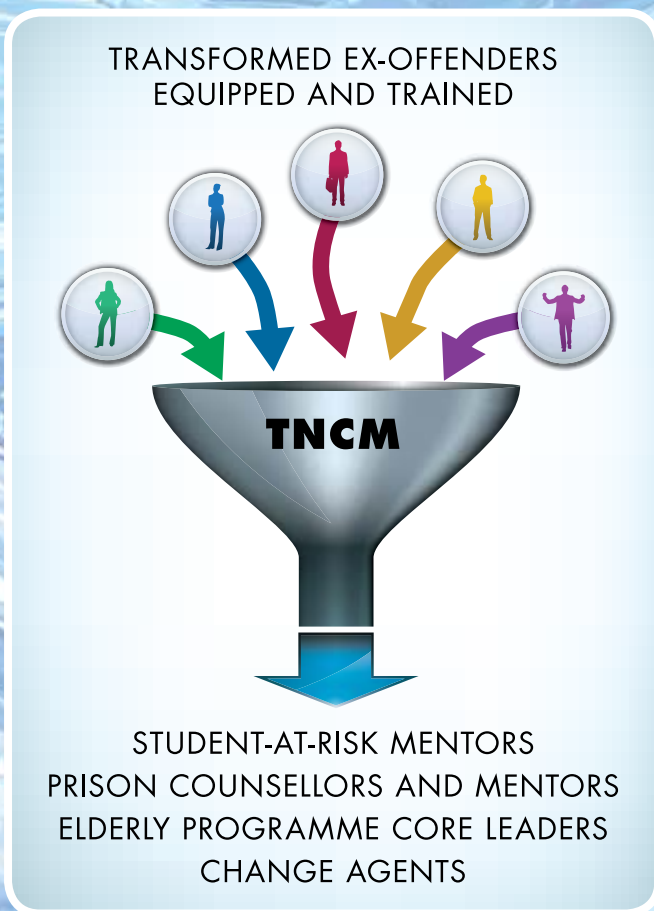

Unlike other Family Services Centres, The New Charis Mission (TNCM) is founded and run by renewed and restored ex-offenders. Having received the assistance they needed, they are then equipped to be a funnel of hope and change to those who are hard to reach.

AN INDIVIDUAL FUNNEL

If every individual was a funnel, the top would be wide open. We would be open to change, allowing godly leaders to speak into our lives and God to pour His words in. The bottom is precise to ensure the love, hope and blessings received can then be directed specifically to others. It is a reflection of the determination to start anew, acquire new skills and knowledge and make choices that positively affect the people around.

Hope & Change

A CORPORATE FUNNEL

Corporately, TNCM is a huge funnel. Hardened ex-offenders flow into the wide open top and go through a process to eventually become transformed individuals who are beacons of hope and change. This is how we fulfill our purpose of existence, vision and mission.

VALUES:

Hope & Change

VISION:

To bring new hope and opportunities to those in despair and neglect

MISSION:

To enable the disenfranchised through targetted programmes, tools and refuge

The power of a changed life is not measured by qualifications, wealth or status. It is life that has been touched and now seeks to touch others. TNCM is exactly that; made up of men whose lives have been turned around and know exactly how to help others turn theirs around.

We are now entering a new season where we run to greater lengths and leap for greater heights. We are below an open heaven where we are the funnels of hope and change, running to places where we can make a difference.

“TNCM has credibility because it is led by these who were themselves at one time outcasts of society.”

Mr. S. Dhanabalan, Former Cabinet Minister
